Preparing Nurses to Address the Needs of Vulnerable Populations in a Public Health Emergency

COVID-19 Responses and Updates

The mission of the National Collaborative for Health Equity is to promote health equity by harnessing data, developing leaders, and catalyzing partnerships across the many different sectors that share responsibility for creating a more equitable and just society.

Recognizing that action, leadership, inclusion, and collaboration are the basis for driving policy decisions, we strive to connect people most impacted by social and racial injustices and to transform systems and institutions built on the enduring legacy of racism, particularly its less visible – but more insidious – structural manifestations. In so doing, we will improve the health, well-being and life opportunities for communities of color.
